A Distressing Accident.

A sad accident occurred about ten o'clock last night in the river opposite this city by which Miss Virginia Downer, aged 18, of Norfolk, was drowned. The unfortunate young woman had been visiting at the residence of Mr. J. T. Burke, Prof. A. Hoxton, on Seminary Hill, and Miss Bessie Jones, daughter of Dr. T. M. Jones, and during the short time she had been in this city had made a number of acquaintances, and her death and the circumstances in connection with the same have thrown a gloom over the community, especially in the younger circles in which she had been moving.

The circumstances in connection with the drowning are as follows: Miss Downer had entered a canoe belonging to the Old Dominion Boat Club in company with Mr. John Burke, Jr., her cousin, to enjoy a moonlight trip upon the river. They had nearly reached the channel bank on the opposite side of the river when three excursion steamers came along. Two were on their way up the river and the other was going down. Miss Downer was seated in the bow and Mr. Burke in the stern of the canoe. Both were paddling the boat. The swells from the three steamers sent the little craft upon the top of a wave, causing it to careen, when Miss Downer lost her equilibrium and fell out, the boat overturning in the meantime in the trough of the sea. Mr. Burke, with presence of mind, took hold of his companion and, succeeding in "righting" the canoe and told her to hold on until they could be rescued by parties from the shore. The young woman, however, attempted to get into the canoe and in doing so rolled it over, bottom-up. This act she repeated three times, until she was finally prevailed upon by her companion to cling to the overturned boat and remain passive until relief arrived. Both the young man and young woman were almost exhausted by this time, and a huge swell coming along washed both from the canoe. Miss Downer was seen no more, but Mr. Burke, after many efforts to rescue his companion, managed to regain the canoe, to which he held until aid reached him, a boat which chanced to be near by having gone to his rescue.

Mr. Burke's shouts for help had attracted considerable attention from people on the wharves, and it having been noised throughout the city that a young woman had been drowned, hundreds of people subsequently gathered on the river front and a number of boats proceeded to the scene of the accident and an immediate search for the body was instituted, which was continued today, more than a dozen engaging in the work. This morning the Washington police boat Vigilant came down and aided in the search for the body.

About ten o'clock the body was recovered by Messrs. Jos. Mills, Alpheus Robey, Harry Arnold and Guy Wood, who were in a boat dragging the river for it. Mr. J. T. Burke shortly after hearing of the drowning offered a handsome reward for its recovery.

The remains were taken to Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment. After having been prepared they were removed to Mr. Burke's residence. They will be forwarded to the home of the deceased. They will leave here on the Norfolk steamer this evening.

Miss Downer was a native of Norfolk, where her mother, Mrs. Eliza Downer, formerly Miss Eliza Green, who is well-known in this city, resides. Her brother is a lieutenant of the command at Fort Monroe.

Miss Downer had been visiting Miss Jones for the past week. About a year ago, it will be remembered, Miss Jones visited Norfolk. While there she narrowly escaped drowning at Virginia Beach. Yesterday at dinner reference was made to the coming outing in the canoe. Dr. Jones referred to the narrow escape his daughter had had near Miss Downer's home a year ago, and expressed his apprehensions at the indulgence in such sport by young women. Miss Downer merely laughed at what she considered unnecessary alarm about canoeing and went out.

It is further said that the mother of the unfortunate young woman also had her anxieties, and that at her solicitation Miss Downer made the trip from Norfolk to this city by rail instead of by water.

This is the second instance where young women have lost their lives by drowning at this place during the past fourteen years. On July 4, 1891, Miss Marietta Dove, daughter of Mr. Levi Dove, of lower Fairfax county, stepped off the wharf at the foot of Prince street, after she had landed from an excursion steamer, and was drowned.

The Board of Governors of the Old Dominion Boat Club met this morning and formulated the following order which was later posted at the boat house: "In view of the distressing accident which has just occurred, the further use of boats is positively forbidden until this notice is withdrawn, and the boat house is ordered closed. By order of the Board of Governors."

The Churches.
Yesterday was a warm day and the heat kept many people indoors, notwithstanding which the churches were fairly well attended. The services were conducted according to the announcements in Saturday's Gazette. In Christ Church in the morning Rev. H. St. George Tucker, of Tokyo, gave an interesting account of the missionary work now being done in Japan.

Heavy Rain.
There was a heavy rainfall shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. The rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning. The streets were for a time flooded, and the mercury, which had soared beyond the ninety mark, dropped to 78° in less than half an hour. The temperature which prevailed previous to the rain was the most depressing of the season.

New Houses.
Plans are being prepared for handsome modern houses on Prince street, on north Columbia street and north Washington street, it being proposed to erect five on the latter thoroughfare. Mr. W. Leon Clark is the architect and the plans will soon be in the hands of contractors for estimates.

Consecration of Churches.

In addition to the regular closing exercises and services at the Theological Seminary, near this city, two of the chapels in connection with the Seminary missions were consecrated by Bishop Gibson—St. John's Chapel, West End, and the chapel of the Holy Spirit, Howardsville.

The chapel of the Holy Spirit, Howardsville, was consecrated on Saturday morning last at eleven o'clock with the following clergy present: Bishop Gibson; Revs. R. W. Micou, D. D.; Wythe L. Kinsolving and S. A. Wallis, rector of the seminary missions. These marched in procession from the vestry room outside the chapel and were met at the front door by Messrs. John Howard and Arthur Cleveland, trustees, and Dr. Blackford and Mr. George C. Stewart, all going up the aisle to the chancel and repeating the 24th psalm with the bishop. The "Instrument of Donation" placing the property under the ecclesiastical authority of the bishop and diocese of Virginia was read by the rector and the sentence of consecration by Dr. Micou, the consecration proper being by the bishop himself. The sermon was preached by Rev. Wythe L. Kinsolving, who was ordained on Friday at the seminary and had been for the past session student in charge at the mission.

St. John's Chapel, West End, was consecrated yesterday morning at eleven o'clock. The services of consecration was, of course, the same, the bishop and the clergy, who were Revs. R. W. Micou, R. E. Massie, Custis Fletcher and R. C. Cowling, marching from the parish hall to the front door of the chapel and being met by the following trustees of the chapel: Messrs. M. W. Cowling, Stuart Watkins, C. W. Rust and Roy Studds, and then going up the aisle, the clergy to their places in the chancel and the trustees to a front pew. Mr. Julian Chaucery, treasurer and trustee, was present at the service. The sermon was preached by Rev. Custis Fletcher, now of Tazewell county, formerly, when student, in charge of St. John's Chapel. Rev. R. Young Barker, in charge during last session, was also present as was also Prof. Green, of the seminary.

Want a Quiet Fourth?

Mayor Paff, after a consultation with Chief Webster last Saturday night, determined to bring about a new order of things in Alexandria in connection with the observance of the Fourth of July, which is drawing near. The laws of the city and State will be rigidly enforced and the policeman will be held to a strict account for all disorderly happenings in their beats. It has always been any sort of law to use explosives of any sort or to sell the same within the limits of the Corporation, but in by-gone days the discharge of small powdercrackers on Christmas or Fourth of July was winked at, they not being regarded as dangerous and causing but little annoyance. This liberty, however, has developed into a colossal and dangerous nuisance by the introduction of cannon and dynamite crackers, together with caps placed upon sticks which produce ear-splitting noises, the deadly toy pistol, toy cannon, &c. The sale and use of all such contrivances is forbidden by law, and the mass of the community will rejoice to learn that Mayor Paff and his coadjutor, Chief Webster, will attempt to bring about more pleasant conditions next Fourth of July and not allow the city to be captured by the boisterous and thoughtless. With this end in view attention is directed to a state law which makes it a misdemeanor to discharge cannoncrackers within the bounds of the Commonwealth, as well as the city law which forbids the discharge of muskets, fowling pieces or any firearms, or any composition of gunpowder or fulminating powder. [Chapter X, section 19 city code.] [Chapter XIII, section 12, is as follows: "No person whatever shall sell, barter or exchange any India or other firecrackers, torpedoes, fulminating or any other exploding powder whatever (unpowder excepted) within the limits of the corporation of Alexandria. Every person offending herein shall forfeit and pay $5 for each and every offense." The sale of toy pistols has long been a misdemeanor.

John Ennis, a resident of south Lee street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having broken into the armory of the Alexandria Light Infantry on south Royal street for the purpose of robbery. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Officers Mayhugh and Bell discovered Ennis, who is supposed to be a member of the infantry, in the building, and conversed with him through an iron grating in the door, Ennis stating that he had accidentally been locked in. Later the janitor found that the lock had been forced from a back door and several lockers had been broken into and the contents, consisting of shoes, blankets, &c., piled in a heap near the door. He went to a drawer where the medicines are kept and took what he supposed was the salts, put it in a glass, mixed it up and swallowed the potion. He suddenly grew sick and upon making an investigation discovered that he had swallowed oxalic acid—a poison. Local remedies were immediately resorted to and Mr. Harlow was soon relieved. He was later attended by Dr. Delaney, and is fast recovering from the effects of the poison.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera.
